Dear Laura:

I have gone over the manuscript of your book and found it very interesting indeed.

After I went over the book it occurred to me that it would be very helpful if I had one of the Tribe's anthropologists go over the manuscript to detect any major mistakes, if any. Accordingly I asked Mr. Brugge to review the manuscript and his comments are attached.

The spelling of Navajo words also came under scrutiny. I believe that the spelling used by Brugge is what ought to be used in your book.

Again, thank you for the opportunity to review this manuscript and I hope that before long this long awaited book will be published.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

J. Maurice McCabe
