

Another honor student educated by this Endowment Fund is Nancy Rose Beaully (Evans). Nancy Rose was born in Shiprock in 1938. She went to the grade school in Shiprock, then to the Indian School in Albuquerque, and onto the University of New Mexico where she majored in biology. Nancy Rose thought it was silly to waste whole summers while getting her education, so she enrolled in the summer schools both at the University of New Mexico and the University of Colorado; the result, of course, is that she graduated in three years instead of four. Then she went right on to get her Masters Degree which she received in 1961, at the age of twenty three. After the Master Degree, Nancy Rose ^{she} began ^{my} working toward a doctorate degree ~~and~~ completed two years, ~~at the and during the time she was~~ ^{also acting as a} research assistance to the Physiologist at the University of New Mexico and also at a hospital in Albuquerque. ^{Alexander Evans}

In 1963 she married a young Navajo ¹ who was on his tour of duty with the army. When her husband was sent to Panama, Nancy Rose returned to her parents' home at Beclabito until after the birth of her daughter. By that time the situation in Panama was such that families of servicemen were not permitted to join their husbands ^{as} so Nancy Rose has been working temporarily with the New Mexico State Welfare Department in Shiprock. When this interim is over, and with her knowledge, ability and experience, I hope she will find a position where her talents can be used to the full. ^{Maybe} ^{though they} ^{as} ^{women} ^{are} ^{not} Nancy Rose's parents are ^e find old type Navajo People who ^{on} ^{as} yet speak little English ~~but also~~ passed their capacities to an able daughter. This young ~~Navajo~~ ^{is} ^{an} example of Navajo ability to learn new ways and a new kind of life, yet retain the finest of traditional Navajo ways.

Nancy Rose ^{started} ~~was on~~ ~~her~~ at the University completing 2 yrs Towards her doctorate and also acting ~~as~~ ^{as well as} a research assistant to the Physiologist at the University ~~and also~~ at an Albuquerque Hospital.
