

DUELL, SLOAN & PEARCE, INC.

270 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK 16, N. Y.
PUBLISHERS

C. HALLIWELL DUELL
CHARLES A. PEARCE

MURRAY HILL 5-2510
Cable: SWORDWORDS

June 14, 1948

Dear Laura:

Your substitute pages came in -- one of the hands and corn, one on the drums, and the other of Fray Angelico with the cross--
with the accompanying text pages.

As the year progresses it would seem to be impossible to get the book out this fall before Christmas. I am as disappointed as I know you will be in this, and we all regret that it's not going to be practical. This will mean we will be working on the cuts this fall with the idea of getting the first copies out fairly early in the coming year. We should be able to be well in advance of any summer tourist season there, which I think is extremely important from both points of view. For a very obvious reason the summer sales in New Mexico seem to be the best and, although this book will go far beyond the local sales in the immediate vicinity of the Rio Grande, it will be an important incentive to have a well concentrated sale for the seasonal highpoint.

Sincerely,

Walter L. Goodwin, Jr.

Miss Laura Gilpin
Box 1173
Santa Fe, New Mexico

wlg/df