Dear Miss Gilpin:

The publication date of THE RIO GRANDE has now been changed to September which will allow a little more time on the preparation of the book.

I haven't heard definitely from Mr. Goodwin about the date on which he will be in Santa Fe, but the first week in April sounds about right. However, I am forwarding your letter of March 15 with the new address on to him, and I am sure he will let you know just when he expects to arrive there.

At the present time there is an Express strike on here in New York and nothing is being delivered. In view of this and the changed publication date, I think the best thing to do would be to hold anything you may have completed there until Mr. Goodwin arrives, and then let him bring it back to New York.

Sincerely,

Dorothy S. Farr
