Dear Laura:

Because of lack of a firm promise on a bound delivery date we are changing publication date to October 17. Books then will be ready in sufficient time before publication to have them shipped out to bookstores. This means considerable changing in plans of your local stores, but our sales department will be getting in touch with them.

All corrections have been made in the type and we expect page proof at the end of the month. We will plan to send you a set for checking, holding the manuscript and author's proofs here. Unless unanswerable queries come up we can check page proof from this end.

Sincerely,

Walter L. Goodwin Jr.
