Dear Wally:-

In the excitement of getting the galley off to you and the necessary items to write about, I forgot to answer your recent letter regarding the forthcoming secret publication. Of course, I shall not only be delighted to be included but very proud to be so. As to selection what do you suggest? Let me know and I will prepare a print.

The corrected map, No. 1, is in the mail with this. I feel very badly that I slipped on this. Just don't understand how I overlooked the placement of Pike's stockade, but it must be right. Just charge me up with an extra plate. I have had Rosenmeyer add THE SAN LUIS VALLEY, with the text opposite, is necessary. Things pop out at you when you see the two together.

I have found one more inconsistency; page 45, picture of river bordered with palms. The High Country and the Delta should be capitalised like this, to be consistent with similar uses throughout the book. Not too important, but as there is a correction on this page anyway perhaps it can be done.

Hope today's mail will bring in something more.

Am deep in developing the work I did while I was east. It is a sizable accumulation, and so far I haven't reached the Goodwin family, but I will in the next few days. Did a great deal for Isabella Gilpin some of which she wants immediately. I have had to shoehorn myself into this little house. The bedroom and bath assigned to me at Sealeby would contain this whole house!

A completely rainy day yesterday and cool enough for an o on fire. Hope the same greeted you. How is Mary's invention coming? I shall be most interested to hear.

After listening to Mrs. Roosevelt and the Children of World program yesterday, the soil erosion comments in Rio Grande should come in very pat.

My cordial greetings to all,
