Dear Mr. Mordant:-

Well we got off to a wonderful start yesterday. Santa Fe Book sold out. The Villagers did not do so well, but Mrs. Greenwood had been away and failed to get an announcement in the paper. As it was the sold out sixty books. Jerry Clement seemed very excited over the way it went. Now, I'm just off to Colorado Springs, and we will see what happens there.

I have had a very enthusiastic letter from Miss Holmway in Dallas. Also my exhibition is now definitely booked there for December first at the Museum of Fine Arts. A perfect time for it. I do to go over for the opening and give a talk at the gallery. (for which I got paid).

My own orders keep coming in and I am needing more books. Will you please send me twenty more, ten only with captions, the rest without. These to be billed to me, as were the sixty others for re-sale. By the way, did you notice that the name is not on the little foldover? I had forular photograph write to enquire who was publishing this book. I had not noticed it before.

I shall be home again Wednesday evening and will report on the Colorado Springs affair. Both the new up there are predicting a big sale for now so Christmas and steady thereafter. Now I hope this will be true.

Sincerely yours,
