

Dear Mizzy -

We had one of the most delightful teas of the season to mark the opening of Miss Gilpin's exhibition. It is a beautiful exhibition - Bath Bloyd and Fannie May Hurlbert put all they had into the hanging of it and the assembling of the people to do it honor. The one thing lacking was the artist herself. Not even Frances Benjamin had a criticism to offer and she doesn't usually have much to say for other women in the same field. Very greetings to the family. Lots of people send love. Julia
