Dear Miss Gilpin:

Thanks for your letter of the 30th with the signed contracts, your copy of which we are enclosing herewith, as well as the check for advance royalties in the amount of $250.00.

It was fortunate that your letter arrived when it did, because I was able to get in touch with our mid-western man, who is now in Chicago, and passed on your suggestion about Fred Harvey ordering in larger lots. I hope that they will become aware of the advantage of this.

I am also enclosing a price list of some of our Chamberlain postcards. I think I gave you some of the cards themselves so that you could compare the quality and price and let me know what you think of possibilities of sale, and what outlets would take what quantities, if you can arrange to get this information. As previously mentioned, we can get thirty postcards on a sheet, but our minimum quantity will have to be 5,000 of each, or a total of 150,000 cards.

Your proposed trip sounds quite fascinating, and your suggestion that we fly down to Chichen is not altogether an impossibility. We hope to be able to get away for a bit in February. Will you be there then? If so, I'd be very glad to have the name of the Maya Land Tour man. Best wishes.

Cordially yours,
