Dear Miss Gilpin:

In going through our correspondence, I see in your letter of December 7, 1946 that in your third paragraph on page 2 you suggest that the book be printed in black ink for text and prints. I was under the impression that you wanted to have the same ink as in THE PUEBLOS. This is not the case. If you perhaps go through some of our other books you can pick out just what color you want. I'm sure you don't want a pure black, because that color is very uncomplimentary, and I believe you probably want some little warmth.

If you do find the color you want, you might just air mail to us which book, if it's a gravure one, so that we could match that color.

Cordially yours,

HASTINGS HOUSE
