Dear Laura:

I've been hoping to write you a definite letter of some sort concerning the NAVAHO book, but, unfortunately, things have piled up so much in preparation of my trip to Europe and for the fall sales conference, which will be the first week in June, that I just haven't had the time to get more figures on the NAVAHO book. We have talked about it continually as a possibility, and I have several comparative estimates which aren't quite right.

Nevertheless, I've finally decided that inasmuch as I am leaving for Europe this Friday, I should at least send back the group of finished prints asked for in your letter of February 22. This we have done and we are holding on to the manuscript. Mrs. Dalton has it here.

Perhaps shortly after I return on June 6 you may have the other section, and we could then try to get definite prices.

I hope the Pedersons were able to meet you. You were so kind to offer to take them under your wing. Best wishes.

Cordially yours,

HASTINGS HOUSE
