Nell Darling,

I am so happy that you like the scarf.. but I was shoked to hear that when you came home so many difficult things awaited you! Poor Darling.. and yet, how wonderful that you were able to avert disaster! You always do that, through your sheer presence.. I feel that so strongly whenever I think of you whenever I see you...

I would so much love to take a day and drive up to you and the peace of your house and go with you to see John.. may be, if our maid works out I can do it.. but mother is demanding, she wants me next to her and never lets me have the feeling that I can and should also be with my friends.. All love Darling, do let me know when you come to New York, I love the idea of having you stay with me.. on rug and floor or bed whichever you choose,

love love and love again and all best thoughts,

Erica
