Sunday morning - I finished a book "Steamboat around the Bend" last night & the new Life with a remarkable plan for a defensive war from the air. In one way it seems a mistake to tell of all the new machines but I suppose they figure any intelligence would have them any way and the opinions of top German generals who have fought the Russians is encouraging.

I suppose if you disregard truth you should publish what would help USA prepare to such a degree they were least likely to begin a war. My voice seems O.K. praise the Lord & it is a perfect day. The sun shining in my room.

The London work is full. Dr. Lampitt has invited me to his special dinner & we visit the Colne Valley works. A full work. Arthur meets us Sat. Am. at Liverpool St & we are with him Sat & Sun.

Sunday nite - A full day after 11. Views of Rhine from an old Castle Bad Schlemberg. Voice near gone again. Boys gone & a pianish plays from St. Pacific - Berlin's P.O.W. in England - a gentle song. With all Americans here I gather no organized attempt to bring Americans & Germans together. Except sexually & that takes care of itself. A beautiful city with many nightingales singing in the Spring they say.
