Dear Nell,

It occurs to me that Chris won't be there when the ac adaptor for the tape recorder arrives.

Just plug it into the outlet on the left side, nearest you, facing the recorder. Then you can have a stable power supply and perhaps better tone. Unplug one of the mike chords (if you are using the mike.) All the power goes into and out of the first plug, the mike and the patch cord fit into the rear of the two plugs.

Mailed Father Pire's book, too, today.

Best love,

John
