Dearest Nell,

The plans for Hartford have now crystallized. I will arrive there the 8th, make an appearance for the English teachers conference that evening, and again the following morning. Remain there through the session that ends on Saturday at 3 p.m. Then take a car and drive to Washington, arriving there the evening of the 9th and leaving the morning or around noon on the 11th for Hartford and the flight on to Louisville. This means that I will be there the evening of the 9th, the 10th and leave around noon on the 11th. Is that all right? If it is not, dear Nell, you know that all you have to do is send me a telegram not to come. I know that you are immensely preoccupied with helping Erica and I would not want that interrupted for anything in the world. I do not leave here until the morning of the 8th, so you can let me know as late as ~~Friday~~ Thursday the 7th if there is any inconvenience whatsoever in my visiting you at that time. Also, I will be staying at the Hartford Hilton Hotel in the event you need to contact me even later, or if something comes up at the last minute.

All for the moment. Want to get this note to you as quickly as possible.

Best love from all of us here,

John
