Well dear:

It is good to know that you are mending, physically and spiritually, and I am so glad that you have taken I wonder why into your large heart. Did I tell you that 1,300 copies were sold in a single day?

Mr. Steichen's glorious book is on its way to you. It is so beautifully packed by Doubleday that I did not want to risk damage by opening the box to insert a card, so this in its place, with my love.

Thanks, too, for the information about the glowing portraits. I'm glad I spotted the murals!

Amusing note in a mirthless world!
As we turned north on Madison tonight, my taxi driver gave two gentlemen the right of way, with a cheery, "O.K., Dave and John," and, turning to me, allowed "These are the Rockefeller boys."

Now very soon. Meanwhile, recover swiftly And best love -

Please do not worry about the Steichen Center. All your works are beautiful! We can talk it over when you are able to come in (oh, joyous day)! Whenever possible, I am anxious to include prints made by the artist - to me they are more meaningful than any others, because they make the act of creation more intimate and close, and have an added aura of love.
