Hub dear:

Thank you for sending your wonderful emissaries on a mission of beauty! I called Mr. Steichen tonight, to give him your message, and to tell him about the magnificent treasure chests. They are works of art in themselves, and reflect the perfection that is such an essential part of you. We are looking forward to the unveiling of the glorious contents, as soon as our Captain's presence permits. He may come in tomorrow, to spare us an impatient week-end of suspense and breathless anticipation. More later, but meanwhile I want you to know that our entire gratitude is yours.

It is good to know that you are better, and that your father's great tradition is to be carried on for another generation, at least. I can imagine the happiness this gives you, who give so much....

With love always -
Grace
