Nell dear:

Many thanks for your letter. I have relayed your messages to Gene Smith and the ASMP, and I am sure that your kind words will make them very happy. I have asked INFINITY to check with you before printing your comments, as I imagine they will be tempted to do. I fear that I disagree with you on several points Gene makes, as I feel Cornell has done an extraordinary piece of work, in interpreting his brother's feelings and thoughts. Let's talk about this some day, when you will give me the joy of introducing you to Cornell, if you have not already met.

I am so looking forward to your promised visit and that of the two "especialpeople." We have just moved into our new quarters, with a window on the world. It is good to look out, and see the Saarinen Building (it will never be the CBS Building to me) growing in majesty - somewhat like living in Florence when a masterpiece was in progress....

It will be beautiful to see you -

With love always -

Grace
