

March 27th, 1967.
(Mr. Steichow's birthday)

Dearest Nell:

Many thanks for your beautiful Spring thoughts and the exquisite Mouse Musings, which delights me (especially the philosophy of the Spanish contingent).
I have always been fond of these small beasts (in the abstract) ever since the day my little niece (who was familiar with the field variety) asked our New York bred cook: "Any mouses? We have mouses!" thereby branding her mother as a poor housekeeper, in the eyes of our high born lady! And how superb is Dorothy Abbe's part-in the treasure you have made mine!

I spent-Easter with the delegas drawings in Philadelphia - cities have many things to offer, although I am unable to convince you!

very best love always,
Grace