Dear Nell,

I know how you must have felt on Sunday and how great is the loss of Erica for you. But as to me, your friend's beautiful rendition of the Bach Cantata "Ich habe genug" must have been a consolation. His beautiful musical tribute was for me the most moving and meaningful moment.

And now life continues and we have the task to continue what Erica has created, all of her friends together. For your great gift and help, we thank you with all our hearts. We value it not only as a great contribution, but also as a great encouragement which strengthens our determination and gives us added hope.

The snow is falling, the birds are flying by from and to their feeders. There is still left some of the warmth of Erica's presence here in the house and I relive the many happy memories.

My thoughts are with you in gratitude and love,

Rhena.
