Barbara von Schreiber

New York, October 5, 1980

Dear Nell:

Herewith copy of Greta's letter, which should set your mind at rest. I'm so pleased to have met her and know we will work well together. We both have your interests at heart.

Marcusi Pfeiffer is now planning a show of your work for the early fall of 1981, and would like to come and visit and see the new prints. Perhaps sometime in December or early January?

I will write to Greta to notify her of change of dates and will plan on seeing her in the Spring. I will also ask her to send all the other material she still has of yours by United Parcel and to let you know of the expense.

Jane Morse has a show of her sculpture at the Silo, I hear it's beautiful. Perhaps Pam can drive you over.

I'm so glad Ton Kessler has reappeared. So much unchanneled talent.

I still have one of your prints "The Waterbabies" here. I hope all the others were accounted for. I'm so sorry about the broken glass. I think you were all having a nap when I dropped by the prints as I got no answer to my "hellos". (It was around 2.00pm).

Much love, as always

Barbara.

315 Central Park West New York, N.Y. 10025 (212)873-6594