Our love -

We shall write soon again.

September 22

To the Master Bread-maker from her apprentice comes this first loaf to her wise taste. Our little cottage is filled with the smell of bread and our hearts with gratitude thank you one more of an infinite number of times ...

I shall send soon a few Polaroid prints of the house so that you may share it with us.

the house and the hearth feel natural to us both. Being quietly at home together is filled with blessings and we savor each hour wishing them to pass more slowly.
