

go to storage. It looks like a hopeless job - with no heart in it but if I have one of the "gremlins" out from under her feet, I think she will make order out of the chaos. You simply cannot get any help here for loss or money.

The defense also takes everything.

No one seems to do the laundry - I never get more frustrated by the physical. Win is wonderful - but cannot see ahead and is too near to cope with two young hesties and the problems involved.

Barly and John will come here about the time Bill has to leave again (May 22nd) - she will help Win over the last lap of breaking away. Bet is trying to get some kind of a house in D. H. - near to

Dearest:

Monday morning and all is well! Yes, things do look differently in the morning. Last night — and every night - I have been troubled by the problems here. I had forgotten how there could be other problems than the Don Co - or ours. There are much more pressing than ours. I think I shall take your advice and bring Christopher back with me, all the I have to promise Bill I would have him home again for Bill's furlough - May 12th.

That will give Win the chance to get her house in order — things packed which must be sent ahead and things packed which must her - I shall feel better if they are together. Does one ever get his house in order?? I wish I had a place to tuck them all in - and safe. I am shocked that the U.S. Government does nothing for its family life of its soldiers. They do not pay any of the moving expenses. Win will get $100.00 a month. She even loses her hospitalization - because Bill is no longer with his Company. No wonder the fine, responsible young men go into the service with heavy hearts. They feel the bottom has dropped out of everything - and their families are as much endangered as if they were in war. So after all you can only do so much with $1.00 - and that is very little these days. I don't see what young mothers do who haven't a car to sell or someone to help.

Well darling forgive the long outburst. I had forgotten how long because it is a comfort to unload - to you. I miss your shoulder darling - but I am offering mine and trying to be worthy. Life is never simple - but War is the most devastating stroke of all. When I hear talk about whether we "can" trust Russia? ect? ect? - whether it will work?? - I only know that it must work - otherwise our civilization is doomed - and science is a mockery. With Spring on the threshold and a male cardinal singing to his mate - the same old sweetness - what is wrong with man? We can't change the whole world - but let's wake up before it is too late - God bless my John. N.
