

The
Two
great
cakes.

the only difference
is one never moves —
and the other is never still.

We planted hepaticas and blood-root and maiden-hair around its feet. The trailing arbutus we planted on the sunny bank by the River. They are still there —

Merry Christmas John. These are only a handful of the precious memories we share.

Ever,

Or.