Dear Miss Howland:

Thank you for your letter of April 15 . In regard to your request for information on loan art exhibitions, we must regretfully say that we do not ordinarily have any exhibitions available for circulation, which is a matter of lack of time and finances.

We do, however, have an excellent photographic exhibition by the internationally renowned photographer Nell Dorr. MOTHER & CHILD was exhibited here from November 26, 1964 through January 7, 1965, and was very well accepted by the public. Enclosed is a Xerox copy of Infinity magazine's article from the December 1963 issue entitled "Nell Dorr". Unfortunately, we do not have any copies of the book MOTHER & CHILD.

The exhibition consists of 83 unframed black and white photographs measuring 20 1/2" x 16 1/2", and mounted on Masonite. We displayed them in 163 running feet with no more than 3" spaces between each panel. The insurance value of the exhibition is $4,150 and it is contained in three boxes weighing approximately 225 pounds. The exhibition is available at a fee of $25 plus transportation. It is available for shipment at any time.

Sincerely yours,

Goldthwaite H. Dorr, III
Curator
