Dear Mrs. Dorr:

I have just received a copy of Mrs. Wang's letter to Mr. Trafford admitting that Hill & Wang does not have exclusive rights to your photos and that I am therefore free to negotiate directly with you for their use. I am, of course, very pleased as well as astounded to have my suspicions confirmed that they were acting quite illegally and I don't believe for a minute that they were not aware of it. I'm so glad that you pursued the matter.

I hope that you have had a very pleasant vacation and returned renewed - which is what I hope to do myself. I am taking two weeks after Labor Day. In the meantime, will it be possible for you to provide me with prints of the two photos that I want? I will need them to turn over to the printer by the time I get back. I also will need World Rights. Will this affect your price?

I look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth F. Wilder
