Dear Ms. Dorr:

The "Recollections: Ten Women of Photography" exhibition came to a very successful conclusion in November at the International Center of Photography. It is now beginning to travel.

We have alerted the various participating institutions about the availability of post cards. There does not seem to be an enormous response. There is, however, great demand for these cards in the New York area. As it is very difficult to dispose of 2,000 of each artist's post cards, I would like to sell these cards where the demand exists.

I would also like to ask you once again if you would allow us to reprint the cards once the initial run of 2,000 has been distributed. Our usual artist's arrangement is a $75.00 payment, plus 250 free cards.

I look forward to an early reply.

Sincerely,

Ursula Kalish, Director
