Dear Nell:

Thanks for the notice of your exhibition, which arrived a day or so ago. I hope to be able to see it.

I am enclosing herewith our Fall statement for royalties for the three books. In looking at the checks, I note that they are dated October 24th, one month hence from the day on which I received them. I hope this will be no problem to you, and I'd rather get them out than hold them any longer.

Hoping all goes well. Please plan to stop in any time you are on your way back and forth to town.

We both send our love.

As ever.

Sincerely,

B.
