My dear Nell:

Your note just received and the book will go off today to Elvira. There's plenty of time for her to get it before Christmas.

I intend to do something about a Chirstmas ad. It is certainly not too late.

Meanwhile you may be pleased to hear that about 1000 copies of your book have gone out. I enclose the list of reviewers to whom the book was sent.

All our love and you shall hear from us again.
