Dear Miss Dorr:

I wrote you quite some time ago regarding one of your photographs from THE BARE FEET. I enclose a photocopy of the letter, in the event you did not receive it.

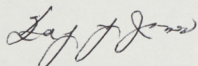

My deadline for all photographic and fine art material is almost upon me and I must know whether or not we will be able to obtain a black and white photograph of the woman combing out and braiding her hair from the book.

We would be paying a minimum of \$75 for the one-time use of the photograph, and perhaps a larger amount if it is reproduced larger than $\frac{1}{4}$ page, which would probably be the case. We would then return the print to you after we have had it returned from the printer.

I understand your niece sometimes handles your correspondence, and I am hoping that she will be able to let me know about this as soon as possible.

Thanking you, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Kay Y. James
