Dear Photographer,

Since our last letter to you during November, we have completed a second editing of photographs for our 25th anniversary book with a view to refining direction and subject matter. As a result, some of your photos may have been eliminated and will be returned to you under separate cover. However, if you receive no photos from us within the next few weeks, that indicates we have held all of your work for consideration for the book.

In addition, a Review Committee of prominent photographers, designers, editors and museum curators has been chosen to work with us on the final selection and is scheduled to meet in January to finalize the book.

We thank you again for your efforts on our behalf and extend our best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,
