Dear Mr's Jorr,

It was most kind of you to send me a copy of your beautiful book which has given the greatest pleasure to my wife and myself. I am most grateful, too, for the personal message which you inscribed in it.

The more one travels, the more one must believe that we are one family as you say. We do our best always to foster this belief.

I hope that some day we may have the pleasure of meeting you and that if you come to London you will give us that opportunity

Very sincerely yours

Robert Ammon
