Dear Mr. Dorr:

I am sure that I can not explain why you did not receive an official acknowledgment of your gift to the Century. In any case, now that I have got back to my desk and find your letter I am distressed that I have not yet been able to make my own examination of the book. This I shall do the next time I go to the Century.

The drink that you say you owe me can be happily shared after I am able to talk to you about the book itself and that, I hope, will be sometime soon.

Cordially yours,

Lyman Bryson
