Dear Mrs. Darrach:

I realize I've been a terribly long time doing anything about the Nell Door book, but as perhaps you saw, the column finally got in on December 21. Actually, the trouble --- which you'll recognize from your newspaper experience --- resulted from the wretched results we had in attempting to reproduce the photographs on newsprint. I had originally planned to make this a Sunday review, but the pictures in reproduction simply won't stand up in a newspaper.

Indeed you didn't need to tell me that you belonged to The Chronicle family. My wife, who was Charlotte Cobden before we were married in 1923, met you on some occasion or other, I know. Would it be through Helen Madden?

With all good wishes for the holiday season, I am

Most sincerely,

Joseph Henry Jackson
