Gentlemen:

As President of Daycroft School, I am writing to express to you sincere gratitude for your gift to the School of the beautiful book MOTHER AND CHILD by Nell Dorr. This book is a powerful influence for good for it awakens a great respect for the individual as the reader turns its pages.

This book, occupying only a few inches of space on our campus according to physical measurements, actually will fill an immeasureable space in the lives of our children. This book speaks the thoughts, and thus the life, of the author. The strongest educator is a mother, and this book placed in the hands of our Daycroft girls will awaken in them the tenderness which is theirs by nature. They will go forth with ideas that have dawned in their consciousness as they have individually received the message that the author had for them.

May I take this opportunity to congratulate the Dorr Foundation for assisting in circulating this valuavle gift to humanity.

With renewed gratitude for your contribution to Daycroft, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Sara McAlpin Pyle Smart
