New York, New York
99 Park Avenue
September 8, 1954

Mrs. Philip Graham
2920 R Street, Northwest
Washington, D. C.

My dear Kay:

It is so long since I had the pleasure of meeting you that I would be afraid you had forgotten me except that I know your father-in-law still holds me in high memory. I am looking forward to seeing him next week when he comes to New York.

I am sending you, under separate cover, a new book by my wife, "Mother and Child," published by Harpers, publication date September 22. The book tells its own story but I wanted you personally to have a copy of it.

She has given it to The Dorr Foundation and we, as well as many others who have seen pre-publication copies, feel strongly that it has a high message to carry abroad as to the spiritual side of the American home, which has been somewhat overlooked.

I realize how busy everyone in Washington is but if you ever come to New York, I would like to have you meet the author.

Kindest regards to Philip and yourself.

Sincerely,

John V. N. Dorr
Chairman

JVND/est