INSTITUTE OF GENERAL SEMANTICS
For Linguistic Epistemologic Scientific Research and Education
LAKEVILLE, CONNECTICUT
Telephone HEmlock 5-9174

21 October 1955

ALFRED KORZYBSKI
Founder and Director, 1938-50

M. KENDIG
Director, 1950—

RECEIVED
OCT 24 1955
J. V. N. D.

Mr. John V. N. Dorr
99 Park Avenue
New York 16, New York

Dear Mr. Dorr:

Under separate cover I am sending you a copy of General Semantics Bulletin, Nos. 16 & 17, in which I am sorry to say Mrs. Dorr's remarks about The Family of Man did not appear.

Your and Mrs. Dorr's very kind permission to reprint her remarks arrived just after the 'final' format of the Bulletin had been determined. As you will note, the Bulletin is produced by photo-offset; all typing, pasting, layout and so on are done here, the actual printing is done in Michigan. Since our fulltime staff numbers only three persons, who must perform a variety of other jobs as well as produce the Bulletin, publication of an issue is a very slow process.

So when the permission to reprint Mrs. Dorr's letter arrived, we had 124 pages scheduled for printing. We considered the possibility of dropping something in order to make way for Mrs. Dorr's letter, but couldn't work out a way of doing that which pleased us. We planned, finally, to use it in the next issue which will enable us to give it a proper display.

The current Bulletin contains, Page 92-93, the first part of our report on The Family of Man.

I must remark that, to our great distress, after we so carefully planned this edition for 124 pages (deciding not to print four more) the printer for some reason we can't understand introduced four blank pages. We are now seeking a new printer.

Very sincerely,

Edward L. Gates

Edward L. Gates