October 7, 1954

Colonel Robert McCormick
The Chicago Tribune
Tribune Square
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Colonel:

A few days ago I took the liberty of suggesting to my wife that she send you a book of hers which has come out recently, which book was sent with a letter of introduction from Lillian Gish. I did this in appreciation of the courtesties extended me by your organization when I spent a couple of days at your camp at Baie Comeau and besides getting the fish from the lake had the privilege of seeing the wonderful town that you have established as well as your most interesting plant.

Sincerely,

John V. N. Dorr

JVND/est