Dear Mr. Dorr:

Thank you for sending us a copy of Mother and Child.

It is an extraordinary book, and I am sorry to advise you that we are not able to take advantage of your kind offer to supply copies on consignment.

At the present time, The Book Shop is permitted to sell only books which relate directly or indirectly to objects in the Museum's collections.

Miss Marguerite Northrup, Supervisor of the Book Shop is returning the volume to you under separate cover.

Thank you for sending it to us.

Sincerely yours,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in blue ink, which appears to read 'B. Kelleher'.
