Gentlemen:

On March 14, 1960, on the page "Women Today", in the Christian Science Monitor, you carried an article "Beauty Recorded", wherein you mentioned Mrs. Nell Dorr's book "Mother and Child", published by Harper Brothers, New York. The article mentions that this book is used by the United States Information Service in distant parts of the world.

However, when I tried to procure this book for my grandchild, I was informed it is out of print. I shall be satisfied without it if that is true - but I wonder why you carried an article so recently calling attention to the book. If it is being printed, I would be most happy to try further to secure a copy. Perhaps you could tell me whether or not it can be secured. Thank you.

Sincerely

Verna Racine

(Mrs.) George W. Racine
