Dear Jef,

The pictures came yesterday, and I cannot thank you for them quickly enough. They are lovely, and will surely be an adornment to the home I hope to have. I cannot decide which is prettiest, but I rather think the one of the cattle-rustler

I believe Will's favourite is the picture of the boys. We like them all, for their beauty, and because they are your work.

We are sorry you could not get over for the dinner. You must come while Pat is here, so we can have some old-time fun together.

Thanking you again, and with kindest regards from Will.

Yours sincerely,
William Newbury Lewis.
