Dear Ms. Corpron,

The International Center of Photography is directing the production of a major volume entitled The ICP Encyclopedia of Photography which will be published in the spring of '84. I recently saw a postcard of one of your photographs, Solarized Calla Lilies, which I would like to include in the book.

A credit line will accompany each photograph, as well as a listing in the picture credit section reading "Courtesy, Carlotta Corpron; Permanent Collection, ICP". Our budget is a bit stretched, due to the need of over 400 photographs, but we are able to offer $60 for one time reproduction rights.

If this arrangement is agreeable to you, please do two things. First, call me collect at the top number above, so that I can inform our Art Dept. before deadline (Aug. 1st). Secondly, sign and return the enclosed copy of this permission letter. We can make a reproduction quality print from the print at ICP (unless of course, you wanted to loan us another). In any event, I look forward to hearing from you shortly.

Sincerely,

Christopher Bain
Photography Editor
