

February 16, 1987

Dear Eliot,

As per our phone conversation on Saturday:

I received the letter from Gibbs Smith on Friday, February 13, informing me that he would need all material to him by March 10. It was my understanding as well as yours that this book had been canceled; I am totally unable to deliver all material by his deadline due to prior scheduling.

Were this book to be undertaken again, I would recommend the following:

Trim size: 10½ x 11½ vertical format (as suggested by G.S.)

Paper: Dull coated as Maine book, finish and weight by

Printing: Dai Nippon best quality ( Topan as per Blessed Light unacceptable)

Cloth and endsheets: to be determined by us to correspond to the jacket

Typography: to be determined by us. Whose book are they going to dismantle to photograph the existing type? Captions and copy changes will look patched.

Quality control: approval of proofs by you

Please let me know what you resolve with Peregrine Smith Books so that I can reschedule this work if you decide to proceed.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Caponigro
