Dear Mr. Armstrong:

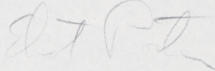

The reason for my delay in answering your request for permission to use two photographs published in the Galapagos volumes is that I have been away from home more or less constantly since early March.

You may have the use of the two photographs you mention, but there should be a fee for reproduction. My usual charge is $100.

I see no reason why you should not be allowed the use of the separations or screen positives made for the Sierra Club or for Ballantine Books. If there is any charge for this use it will have to be negotiated through these publishers, but even if they do charge you the cost will be considerably less than to remake the separations.

You may quote me as recommending that this service be made free or at cost.

Yours sincerely,

EAGLE-A
