Dear Eliot:

The Sierra Club have no right to make any changes without consulting you. I put a Clause in the contract (I6) which provides that no changes in this or any future editions of the work will be made unless with consultation with the author. So I will get after them. I have tried them 3 times this morning on each of their phone lines and get no answer--they may be off protesting something. If I can't reach them today I will put a letter in the mail--to-morrow is going to be a poor day for work here since my partner's wife died last Saturday, funeral to-morrow

yours

Diarmuid
