Dear Eliot:

Here is the Dutton money--$5000 net for expenses and $2500 less our commission. I'm sorry I won't be here to see you when you set off--but jury duty will keep me stuck in the country with no chance of ever getting to the office. But have a good time in Africa and if you come through here on return try and make time for lunch so you can tell me all about the wonders. You'll probably be all tanned and ruddy--and I will be white from too much winter

yours

Diarmuid
