

Monday Eve.

My Darlings.

Arrived home from California last night and have so much to tell you I hardly knew where to begin. We left here on my birthday (Dad had bought me a green orchid for the trip) we went by jet arriving in L.A. at exactly 2 hrs + 16 minutes from the time we left Dallas. We traveled at a speed of 650 miles per hr, tail wind 100 per hr. + altitude 33,000 ft. I was just carried away - "one can not give caviar to parents". We had some delightful entertainment - dinners at fabulous places with fabulous prices. On Wed lunch Fred Crow and Aunt Marie picked us up at our hotel the Statler Hilton and took us to San Pedro. They have a charming new house close to the ocean. We had a grand time. Uncle Fred is a terrific cook and barbecued chicken which were out of this world. + Aunt Marie contributed salad + other goodies. On Thursday night we went to Bob's restaurant (their son) for Chinese food. Simply terrific.

On Friday Aunt M. Dad + Uncle Fred piled into Uncle Fred's new Lincoln Continental + drove to Las Vegas. Words fail me. It is a fantastic place. Thousands of people gambling + losing their shirts but loving every minute of it. The gambling places are open 24 hrs. a day + the entertainment is also on a 24 hr. basis - people like Frank Sinatra, Sara Vaughn, Patti Page, Kay Starr, Sammy Davis etc. We stayed at the beautiful Sahara hotel - with gummy accommodations. Had gourmet food + the works. It was a real experience - a little rich for my blood but exciting. Dad + I left Las Vegas yesterday morning + flew to L.A. + took a jet to Dallas. Dad went back to Little Rock + I came home.

Dad bought me a beautiful
watch, new dress, cashmere sweater with silk collar etc. All in all it was all very nice.

I wish you wrote me?
Scott I have loved your letters.
