Dear Sister: Thank you much for your welcome information letter. It sounds like you are enjoying it more than last year. Unfortunately for me, at least, I won't be able to visit you this year as our annual meeting is in Chicago and the distance will be too great. Would love to see some of the work you are doing so well. Keep it up!

Now your mother has informed me of the possibility of your change in plans for your education. I hope you are going to conceive these plans with great care and also of utmost importance, keep me informed before you make any definite moves despite the fact that your decisions will be definite. As you no doubt can imagine the key to such a change in plans is money. I very frankly cannot assure all the family of my ability to continue to pay its monthly overhead expense of nearly $2,000<sup>000</sup> a month. I'm going to reiterate my promise to keep it up as long as possible. — I can only do just so much and have been able to keep even this up due to the fact that Peter has worked so darned hard to help. This thinly veiled hint may help predict what must be done if everyone is to accomplish his ends.

I've often heard of the beauties of sections of the East in Spring and Autumn, but have never had an opportunity to see or enjoy them. Eventually your travels will be wide and you'll learn to enjoy even more.

Most of all, your living situation sounds most interesting to me. One thing stands out in my mind - anyone not respectful of the hazards to health cannot possibly realize the importance of good health and its essential contribution to success in life. One of the great things about good living conditions is that such are a MUST for good health - both mental and physical.

So get well situated where you are comfortable and appreciate the importance of that situation. Take good care of yourself and work your takers off and you'll always have it made in the shade.

Get my love and wishes for the best of luck -

Wet.
