

February 1, 1964

Dear Scott,

First of all I must apologize for not writing for the past several months. There is no reason for my not having written and I am truly sorry for that.

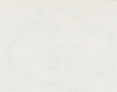

I don't know whether you got my postcard from several weeks ago or not. It might be a surprise to you, but I am engaged to be married next year. I am sure you and Jennifer will like each other. She is a wonderful wonderful person. We both plan, and hope, to graduate from College first but only time will tell if we can wait that long.

An engagement party was given for us last night and Jennifer left for San Francisco to start the second semester. I already miss her so much that I can hardly stand it.

Please overlook the brevity of this note because I have been up for two days and hardly know what I am writing. However, I thought that we should try to get our correspondence going again.

your friend
Awen

Handwritten text, possibly a date or signature, located near the top center of the page.

Handwritten signature or initials, located in the bottom right corner of the page.