Dear Stuart: - I'm a little late too in acknowledging your welcome valentine. It wasn't comy to me. I that it real dear and sweet. The Mardi gras ball sounded like fun and must have been real cool. if their procedure was from the ice age. There was an apartment here robbed of $150.00 last week so I keep the chain on the door. All my boys have keys so in addition will need a back saw if they want to get in. After all I wonder why anyone would care to get in here as there is no jewelry or money and my virginity was gone years ago. Your dad just called me from Key West, He is fine & am glad he has had a good rest as he was real pumped when he left here. Three operations in nine months would sap the strength of a Viking.

We have had a long cold winter, Below zero for six weeks and Two feet of anon and then rain that caused a flood in several areas and yesterday four more inches of snow and blizzard with winds at 50 mi. per hour. Schools closed, roads blocked etc.

No snow plows working as snow blew in faster than it could be shoveled out.

Your Mother called me to explain her past behavior & to say she would be married Apr. 20th. I am so glad for her and hope she & N. W. will be happy but do wish she could have some compassion for Allen.

Philip & Mary Jane are home from three weeks in Ariz., Nev., and Calif. Colin has written a sonata that was played at a concert in auditorium in High School by an orchestra. He wrote all parts for all instruments. I was as proud as a big bloated frog. He will graduate & will go to Rippon where Kirk goes. I understand you will graduate also as well as Susie.
My best wishes to you. I can bloat again.
That would be something as I have lost lbs.
& weigh 112 lbs. Weighed almost that when I was born. A well "Old Age" darn it. Feel reasonably well. Will go in hosp next week so the curiosity of the medics can be satisfied if I give them a hunk of my liver to sniff. I have enjoyed my liver for 76 years but they are so nosy, I dread it but guess it wont be to bad. Well my dear drop me a note soon all about you. When is graduation? Come north. Much love Fanny &
